GEORGE COOK, a young man 17 years old, got into a difficulty with his stepmother yesterday, at No. 12 Hamilton road, and threw a burning coal oil lamp on a bed in which three little children were sleeping. The lamp, however, did not explode, and the children escaped without injury. In the Police Court this morning he pleaded that he was drunk at the time and did not know what he was doing. Judge Lindeman, righteously, sent him to the Work-house for ninety days.

MRS. MARY DOOSTE, wife of John F. Dooste, who lives in the second story of a teneuent nouse on the east side of Baymiller street, a few doors above Lanrel, was severely burnt on Saturday night by the explosion of a coal oil lamp. The flames were extinguished by a gentleman passing by, and by Mrs. Mary Date, who had her hands burnt in the sflort. Mrs. Mary Dooste is so seriously burnt that her recovery is very doubtful. An alarm of fire was sent in from box 184, but on the arrival of the engines it was found that their assistance was not was found that their assistance was not

The investigation of the alleged burning of a prisoner at the Work-house losed on baturday evening. The testimony was decidedly against the sensational story, and only showed that the probabilities were that the prisoner was require inventor to escape work, and probabilities were that the prisoner was signing insanity to escape work, and that a heated iron had been held near him to frighten him, but not sufficiently so to cause serious injury. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Munson and Neure, was appointed to drift resolutions expressing the sense of the Board on the subject, and present the same at the next meeting.

WOOD'S THEATER.—This house begins its eighth regular session under Mr. Macauley's management this evening, opening with Salsbury's renowned troupe, ing with Salsbury's renowned troupe, the Troubadours, in their great comic absurdity entitled "Patchwork," which has been pronounced by the press throughout the country the "hit of the day," "Sailing Under False Colors" precedes the comedy of "Patchwork." This play is an adaptation of "Checkmate," having proved a great success in London. During the evening Mr. Salsbury will give his wonderful portraiture of Charles Dickens, reading the trial seene from Pickwick. All lovers of fun should see the Troubadours.

THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—Sheridan and Mack begin a brief engagement at this house to-night, appearing in their great specialty, "The Mimiques," repiete with fun, popular songs and the choicest gems from our comic operas. The following celebrated artists appear in the cast: Miss Belle Howitt, Miss Marion Fisk, Miss Alecia Jordon, J. D. Keller, Walter Bray, Mr. W. C. Turner, and the great master character actors, Sheridan and Mack, supported by a powerful company of their own.

The fate of Miss Newton, of Delaware, was indeed a sad one. Fresh irom boarding-school, with a gay life of flutes and rose-leaves and moonbeams before her, she was so shocked and mortifled when she heard her mother mispronounce a word in the presence of company that she went up stairs and poisoned herself. Mothers ought to be more careful. If they can't pronounce words correctly when company comes words correctly when company comes they ought to conceal themselves in the kitchen.—Courier-Journal.

The fruit of home missions is well exemplified in the Presbyterian Church at Helena, Montana. Bev. W. C. Rommel found there three years ago sighteen members. From that beginning the membership has grown to fifty-one, the Sabbath-school to 250 members, and a good church has been erected.

The Stars of Covington, and Engles of Louisville, met on the grounds of the former club Saturday afternoon, The Stars were terribly in earnest, and slashed and tore around in such a manshahed and tore around in such a manner as to put the great American Screamers to flight, they having a "goose egg" behind them. The Stars played a strong nine, McSorley, the new third-base man trom the St. Louis Reds, was in the flefd, likewise Boughner, of the Eckfords, making the Stars as formidable almost as a strictly professional club. The following is the score:

As between now then the question has been frequently asked— Will the United States ever again become the carrying power of the world to the extent she was in 1850?

In looking over the carefully kept record in the Boston Shipping List of the European and East India fleets, we find that the ships of the United States far outnumbered those of all other na-far outnumbered those of all other nations. There were reasons then, why our American clippers should control the carrying taude of the world. The war of the rebellon, the timidity, to say nothing of the cowardice of our American slip owners, and the duplicity of the English government, wiped out in an hour, as it were, the glory of American commerce from the seas.

Will it be restored, is the question again and again repeated. We say, yes the reason that brought American commerce to the front twenty-five years ago, still exist, and the reason that brought about its temporary deciline have passed. The United States holds all the elements of a powerful commercial nation, without any of the existing disturbing causes that are holds all the elements of a powerful commercial nation, without any of the existing disturbing causes that are yearly weakening the position adventitiously gained by foreign countries. There is an ever living freshness here and a recuperative power o which no other fiation can boast. We have the material for a great commerce constantly backing and inciting our energies. The day of American clippers has passed and the day of sailing snips generally, but steam navigation is yet in its intancy, and what America once did in developing the wonderful powers of her clipper ships, she is on the eve of doing in building up a steam marine that will hold a higher position in the commerce of the world. Wheever lives to record the doings of another twenty-five-years will present a more satisfactory result than we have in producing the figures for the twenty-five years ending 1850.—Boston Traveller.

Before the cry of "hard times" began Before the ory of "hard times" began, persons were constantly arriving in this city without a dollar in the world and without any definite destination except to get work, and they were seldom disappointed. But now this is almost entirely changed. Nearly all of the immigrants who set footin Castle Garden are supplied with cash enough to give them a start, or go directly to their friends and are not forced to look for work to satisfy their immediate wants.—New York Mail.

A colony of the Waldenses, the laborious and quiet people holding special religious tenets, and dwelling in the valleys of the Po and Pinerolo, has settled in the southwestern pertion of Missouri. It has laid out the plan of a future Waldenses city, called Verona, and already containing four hundred inhabitants. That section of the country will soon be made to blossom, as these peculiar people are proverbially splendid workers.

we shall now any entered by the shall now and add to its variety and power.

THE WEEKLY SUN will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when thimportant, at full length when of moment, and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world. It will be full of contertaining and appropriste reading of every sort, but will print nothing to offend the most scrupulous and delicate taste. It will always contain the most interesting stories and romances of the day, carefully selected and legibly printed.

The Agricultural department is a prominent feature in the WEEKLY SUN, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful to the farmer.

feature in the WEEKLY SUN, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful to the farmer.

The number of men independent in politics is increasing, and the WEEKLY SUN is their paper especially. It belongs to no party and obeys no dictation, contending for principle, and for the election of the best men. It exposes the corruption that disgraces the country and threatens the overthrow of republican institutions. It has no fear of knaves, and seeks no favors from their supporters.

The markets of every kind and the fashions are regularly reported.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN is one dollar a year for a sheet of eight pages, and fity-six columns. As this barely pays the expenses of paper and printing, we are not able to make any discount or allow any premium to friends who make special efforts to extend its circulation. Under the new law, which requires payment of postage in advance, one dollar a year, with twenty cents, the cost of prepaid postage added, is the rate of subscription. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends one dollar and twenty cents will get the paper, postpaid for one year.
